Blade Show in Atlanta, Ga.....anyone going?

I'm not promoting or advertising, just curious who may be attending the show.

I plan to attend the show mixed with a visit to the In-Laws as well.

Thanks for adding this topic! I'll be going, will have a booth there and would love for everyone to come by and visit.

I've never been so it'll be an adventure for sure. I'll be there Saturday and Sunday for sure. I look forward to meeting you and the other peeps hanging around in here. Do you have an idea where your booth will be located by chance? And since I've never been, I assume products will be available for purchase, correct?

It's a great show and most every vendor there has products for sale. If I remember correctly, our booth number is 1066 at the back left area of the show. I'll post exact information once I have the exhibitor's packet.

I'll be going to the BLADE show in Atlanta! It's just been confirmed.

I won't be exhibiting, but I am going to try to muscle into Clay's booth and take over one of his WEPS with the Choseras and Shapton stones

Of course, I should probably run this by Clay first...

That's a no-brainer! Of course I'd love to have you in the booth.
