Thanks Leo. Although I don't have the wisdom and Zen you have (yet, I hope), I will try to do my bit to keep this forum as informative and fun as it is.

I owe a lot to many of the people on this forum. Without all of you, my sharpening skills would probably still be at the level where they were only a little more than two months ago, before I got my WEPS. That is, lousy. And knife sharpening would definitely not have become a hobby of mine.

Thanks everyone!
