Congrats! That is a really beautiful relatively very even edge for a knife with such a recurve!

And a mirror edge. What did you finish it with?

Nice! That sharpfinger looks really um ... sharp.

I love the old timers,

Someone on Facebook was asking what angle/stones you used. Can you provide details?

Hi Clay,

Here are my settings and progression.

Depth: 1(top)

Setting: A.5

Angle: 20 degrees according to the angle cube with a 23 degree micro bevel.

Progression:

Primary

100-1k diamonds

5u and 3.5u strops

1u poly diamond spray

.5u CBN

Micro

1k diamonds followed by 30 or so lite strops with .5u CBN.

I also copied and pasted this to the Facebook post.
