Hello, I ordered the pro package 1 and I was hoping it will come with the new Ball joints but a user on Youtube is saying that the ball joints are an upgrade that needs to be purchased separately, can anyone clarify if this is true?

you can call in and order them over the phone.

Has the original price of $120 increased now the kit also includes the new crossbar, Clay?

That's twice you have asked that same question now with no reply, seems you will have to wait and see Chris.

Thanks for pointing it out! I've been chasing my tail a little lately with travel and then being sick. The new price will be $140 with the crossbar.

Thanks Clay, I appreciate the reply as my budget is stretched to the limit now.

Will be nudging the $1,000 mark soon.

Love the pics of the new Pro Pack II, almost as much appeal as the iPhone 5 release.

People will be lining up outside your shop.

Hope you are now in good health and able to lick all those postage stamps to send them on their way.

As that one image meme goes:  I know that feel, bro.

I'm pondering the upgrade, strops, the 1200/1600 ceramics when they come in again... my bank account is already cowering in fear.

yeah... unless I start asking friends/family to pay for my sharpening. =P Maybe if they give tips I'll just squirrel those away for upgrades. =)
