Forum searching suggestion
Posted by LukasPop - 28 Oct 2012 15:41

If you chose "Search by Keyword" and "Search titles only" options, you typically get many posts with the same title in a row - try word "chosera" for example. So I think the links to threads only (no particular posts) will be better (shorter and clearer) result of searching.

==========

Re: Forum searching suggestion
Posted by Billabong - 29 Oct 2012 01:47

This annoyed me also.

Would like to just find all "old thread titles" with "chosera" in it, without bringing up every post, in every thread.

Unusual behaviour I feel.

==========

Re: Forum searching suggestion
Posted by cbwx34 - 29 Oct 2012 06:30

If you type -re in the box after the word (for example chosera -re) you just get the first post, and not all the re:chosera posts after it.

==========

Re: Forum searching suggestion
Posted by LukasPop - 29 Oct 2012 07:22

---

cbwx34 wrote:

If you type -re in the box after the word (for example chosera -re) you just get the first post, and not all the re:chosera posts after it.

Nice 🙂
But better is "chosera -re:". If you type only "chosera -re", you exclude all titles containing re in any word, with the word "progression" for example.

==========

Re: Forum searching suggestion

Posted by BobNash - 30 Oct 2012 17:02

_____

great search tips - thanks for the thread, didn't realize you could use "-" etc..

==========