Hey Clay, with you going to the show this coming up week, is that going to effect the the PP1's that were supposed to be shipped this week? Hope not 🙂
Been waiting patiently and really looking forward to starting on my knives.

No, I don't think it should affect it. The crew will still be here. I'll double check on your order status too, just to make sure.

Looks like Clay's alive and sharpenin.....

(You get to see another glimpse of the prototype case, and get an idea of how "dirty" his strops are too.)
